BBarters
Don't be users, be barters.

Les Adjectifs Possessifs

Possessive Adjectives

Les Possessifs express a relationship of possession with the aim of establishing a relationship between persons or between persons and things. They are divided into two categories - Les Adjectifs Possessifs and Les Pronoms Possessifs. In this Study Resource, we are exclusively going to refer to the former.

The Possessive Adjective is a noun determiner. It illustrates who or what the noun is talking about. It precisely indicates 'to whom' or 'to what' a noun belongs. It must agree in gender and in number with the noun that is being possessed. The gender and number of possessive adjective doesn't depend on that of the possessor (owner) but on the number and gender of the object/thing/person possessed.

Masculine Singular	Feminine Singular	Mas/Fem Plural	English Equivalent
mon	ma	mes	my ton	ta	tes	your
son	sa	ses	his/her/its notre	notre	nos	our votre	votre	vos	your
leur	leur	leurs	their

Français	English
Je perds toujours mon portefeuille et mes stylos.	I always lose my wallet and pens.
Sa chemise, son collier et ses boucles d'oreilles sont à la mode.	Her shirt, necklace, and earrings are fashionable.
Tes papiers sont dans ton sac à dos. Ils ne sont pas dans ta valise.	Your papers are in your backpack. They are not in your suitcase.
Notre ordinateur, notre tablette et nos montres ne fonctionnent pas. Quel cauchemar !	Our computer, tablet, and watches are not working. What a nightmare!
Ils me fatiguent avec leurs questions et avec leur mode de vie.	They tire me with their questions and their way of life.

Note - For feminine singular nouns beginning with a vowel or a mute h, we use mon, ton and son (instead of ma, ta and sa) to facilitate pronunciation.

Français	English
Ton université a une direction horrible.	Your university has horrible Management.
Mon amie est élégante, sophistiquée et espiègle.	My friend is elegant, sophisticated, and mischievous.
Son histoire parle d'un garçon de neuf ans et de son parcours pour devenir un sorcier.	Its story is about a nine-year-old boy and his journey to become a wizard.